

Publishing house FINANCE and CREDIT Journals
CONTRIBUTOR'S PUBLISHING AGREEMENT

Conditions for Publication Policy

In order to publish your contribution ('The Contribution') to the Publishing house FINANCE and CREDIT's Journal ('The Journal') we need your agreement in writing. Please read the terms of this Agreement carefully and sign and return the form to us as quickly as possible.

1. It is our practice, together with most other serials and journals publishers, to ask you to assign to the Publishing house FINANCE and CREDIT ('The Publisher') the copyright of Contributions accepted for publication in our journals. The reasons for this are as follows:

(i) ownership of copyright by the Publisher tends to ensure maximum international protection against infringement, libel or plagiarism

(ii) ownership enables the Publisher to deal efficiently with requests from third parties to reproduce or reprint a Contribution, or part of it, and in accordance with a general policy which is sensitive both to any relevant changes in international copyright law and to the general desirability of encouraging the dissemination of knowledge.

2. We adhere to the policy of an author's 'right of paternity', the right to be properly credited whenever the work is published (or performed or broadcast). This right requires that it is asserted in writing.

3. Contributor(s) should contact the Publisher in writing or by e-mail to seek permission to revise, adapt, prepare derivative works, present orally or otherwise make use of the contents of the Contribution (see also 7(i) below). Permission to use the contents of your work elsewhere will not normally be withheld provided that the Publishing house FINANCE and CREDIT journal is acknowledged as the original published source with a full bibliographical reference.

4. You will be informed, as far as is practicable, of all requests to reproduce your Contribution, or a substantial part of it, or figures, tables or illustrations from it in another print publication where your Contribution is specifically requested, rather than as part of the journal as a whole. Granting of permission will be subject to your approval, which we will assume is given if we have not heard from you within four weeks of your approval being sought. It is our policy to share equally with the Author(s) any fees received from commercial publishers for permission to reproduce work in print when the total fee is greater than US$100.

5. When the Contribution is accepted we undertake to publish it as soon as we reasonably can and we will endeavor to maximize the visibility of the journal and of your Contribution within it. The copyright assignment is made in expectation of publication of the Contribution in the Journal. If the Contribution is not published in the Journal within 1 year of the date of your copyright assignment, the rights assigned shall revert to the present copyright holder.

6. In addition to publication of your Contribution in conventional printed form, your assignment of copyright also signifies your agreement to its publication and/or storage electronically. The Publisher may also arrange to include your Contribution in electronic document-delivery services and databases without further consultation.

7. By signing this form you certify that:

(i) your Contribution is your original work, has not been published before in print or electronically, and is not being considered for publication elsewhere. If the Contribution is accepted for publication you may make a closed-access deposit of your accepted manuscript in your academic institution's digital repository upon acceptance. Full open access to the accepted manuscript is permitted no sooner than 12 months following publication of the Contribution by the Publisher

(ii) you have obtained permission for and acknowledged the source of excerpts and/or images from other copyright works; the relevant permission correspondence should be attached to this form. If you are in doubt about whether or not permission is required, please contact the Publisher: failure to obtain such permission would be an infringement of copyright and could, in some circumstances, lead to litigation

(iii) to the best of your knowledge the Contribution contains no statements that are libelous, unlawful or in any way actionable and that you have informed all of your Co-Authors of the terms of this Agreement and are signing on their behalf

(iv) you indemnify the Publisher in respect of claims made against it by third parties for copyright infringement relating to publication of the Contribution, or concerning the Authorship of the Contribution or rights to publish the Contribution.

8. The completed Copyright Assignment form should be returned by post, fax or scanned and e-mailed to: legal@fin-izdat.ru

If you mail or fax the form, please inform the Publisher by e-mail so the Publisher can plan for its arrival accordingly.
